Selected Answer: A

Answer = A

Explanation:

Comparing the rest of the choices given, cloud run is the only GCP product that gives the option to build applications (Whilst Dataproc is a bigdata tool; Pub/Sub is a messaging service; Baremetal as the name suggests)

Tip:

if App Engine was to be one of the options the question gets trickier.

remember App Engine does not have as many programming language support as CloudRun. CloudRun is build based on the experience from AppEngine.

All the same, Bare Metal is a strong answer if you consider that you can bring your own tools as well.
