This worries me that examtopics has the most basic question wrong. Cloud 101 - "A". I am basing all other answers on popular vote assuming 75%+

Apparently this is a new studying technique where you realize that their answers are wrong you have truly mastered the material and should Ace the test! And here I thought all my studying was a waste at first blush! Now I can write the test and the answers.....If you need help Exam topics I would be available to resolve the issues! ;)

Selected Answer: A

By moving to the cloud, the organization can offload the responsibility of managing and maintaining physical infrastructure. This can lead to cost savings in terms of hardware maintenance, data center expenses, and personnel required to manage the infrastructure.
